FLORIDA CONGRESS CANDIDATE CLAIMED CONTACT AT AGE SEVEN

By Harriet Alexander, New York 16 OCTOBER 2017

The following was reported by the Daily Telegraph during October. See my numbered comments after the article.

A Florida politician hoping to be elected to Congress in next year's election has claimed that she was abducted by aliens.¹ Bettina Rodriguez Aguilera, 59, a Republican former member of Miami's city council, said that she was taken by extra-terrestrials when she was seven. She is running to replace Ileana Ros-Lehtinen, who retires next year.

Ms Rodriguez Aguilera's daughter is former Republican National Committee Hispanic outreach director Bettina Inclan Agen, and her son-in-law, Jarrod Agen, is deputy chief of staff for Mike Pence, the vice president.

Bettina Rodriguez Aguilera

"I had a direct contact," she said in a 2009 Spanish-language interview with America Teve, discovered by The Miami Herald. "There were three people, who looked a bit like you," she told the blonde hostess of the TV show. She told her that the aliens looked like the Christ the Redeemer statue in Rio de Janeiro.

In a separate interview, published on YouTube in 2011, she went into further detail - describing the aliens as two women and one man. The X Files theme tune played in the background. Ms Rodriguez Aguilera described "going up" inside the spaceship — though whether it went into space or just hovered around town was left unclear.

"I went in. There were some round seats that were there, and some quartz rocks that controlled the ship — not like airplanes," she said. They "flew" in the spaceship, she said, and they told her secrets of the universe, including that the "energy centre" of the world was in Africa.² They said God was a universal energy.

She said that they told her the island of Malta was surrounded by prehistoric skulls, different to modern humans.³ She said that Coral Castle was another pyramid, outside of Egypt.⁴

She also said that the aliens had mentioned Isis, though she didn't clarify if they meant the terrorist organisation or the ancient Egyptian goddess.⁵ Asked by the hostess what she meant, Ms Rodriguez replied: "It's very complicated to explain."

She added: "They told me they'd be back to visit me in later life". Ms Rodriguez Aguilera said they did indeed return, when she was 17.

Luis Sosa, a Venezuelan journalist on the show, thanked her for her courage in speaking about her experiences. "A lot of people don't like to speak about these topics," he said.

Asked by The Miami Herald at the weekend about her encounter, Ms Rodriguez Aguilera said that she strongly believed there was intelligent life outside our galaxy.

"For years, people, including presidents like Ronald Reagan and Jimmy Carter and astronauts, have publicly claimed to have seen unidentified flying objects," she said.

"Scientists like Stephen Hawking and institutions like the Vatican have stated that there are billions of galaxies in the universe and we are probably not alone.

"I personally am a Christian and have a strong belief in God, I join the majority of Americans who believe that there must be intelligent life in the billions of planets and galaxies in the universe."

Comments:

1 Though the report says "abducted" she is reported two paragraphs later describing it as a "contact".

Skull from Malta

2 The Great Pyramid in Egypt is in the continent of Africa, and is at the centre of the land mass. It is said by some to be a point on global earth energy grids.

3 Another report says she "then talks about 30,000 non-human skulls discovered in a cave on the Mediterranean island of Malta." There were unusual elongated skulls found in the Hypogeum in Malta, similar to some prehistoric ones found in Britain (see Maria Wheatley's work).

4 The SecureTeam YouTube video on the matter (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PnPgHY2F1Jo>) said "The aliens also told her that a Miami-Dade tourist attraction called 'The Coral Castle' is actually an ancient pyramid. That would be a turn-up for the books for local historians, as it's currently believed to have been built in Florida City in 1923 and moved to Miami-Dade in 1936 by its creator, Edward Leedskalnin. Leedskalnin is rumored to have used mysterious means to make the marble blocks 'float' in order to build his castle, but aliens were never implicated." There is nothing pyramidal in the structure, but Leedskalnin is reputed to have implied he used methods used in the building of the pyramids.

5 As Ms Rodriguez Aguilera is 59, and the contact occurred when she was seven, this is a long time before the formation of the terrorist group. It almost certainly must refer to the Egyptian goddess.

The Fox4 site says: A Florida candidate for Congress said Monday she stands by her claims she was abducted by an alien spaceship at age 7 but that the incident shouldn't detract from what she's done here on Earth since then. Bettina Rodriguez Aguilera has claimed in past Spanish TV network appearances, most recently in 2011, that she was taken aboard a ship with three blonde creatures that resembled Rio de Janeiro's Christ the Redeemer statue.

"I don't exactly know what happened," she told The Associated Press on Monday. "I believe it is real. But I was 7 years old. It was an experience I had a thousand years ago."

Rodriguez Aguilera said news reports were portraying "in a negative way an experience I had when I was 7 and ignores everything I did after that."

Was Travis Walton resurrected?

Travis Walton

rescued. The twist in the story has been revealed by UFO researcher JP Robinson, after a meeting with Mr Walton at an alien conference.

The case began in November 1975 in the Apache-Sitgreaves National Forest, near Phoenix, Arizona, when six forestry worker colleagues of Mr Walton reported him missing after they allegedly saw him get blasted back 20 feet by an energy beam from a UFO that "appeared over the trees".

Officers thought it was an elaborate cover up and that they had actually killed him and disposed of the body. But five days later he turned-up, saying he had been abducted by

'Aliens accidentally killed me but took my corpse onto UFO to save my life' - shock claim. A man was accidentally killed by a laser blast from a UFO... before his corpse was taken aboard and he was miraculously brought to life, it has astonishingly been claimed.

By JON AUSTIN

PUBLISHED: Wed, Feb 22, 2017

The events which allegedly happened to Travis Walton 41 years ago are one of the world's most infamous so-called alien abduction cases. But, it now appears he may not actually have been abducted after all - but instead aliens and had been forced to punch his way out.

He relayed what happened in his book Fire In The Sky which was turned into a Hollywood movie of the same name in 1993. He claims to have seen three grey aliens on the UFO, and later, human-looking beings described as "smooth-skinned and blemish-less".

Now, Mr Robinson has relayed the new details on his website. He wrote: "I was never convinced of the authenticity of this incident, not to say I didn't believe it, just that you can never be wholly sure.

"All that changed when I met Travis Walton... and got the fantastic opportunity to speak face to face with the man who claims to have met beings from another world, and try to figure out whether he is for real or just a really good liar! After having spent quality time in his presence and talking privately about his experience, I can only conclude that this man really did meet these beings aboard their ship. What wasn't clear before was the question of why would they 'zap' him with that beam of light to begin with? It's all a bit too sci-fi for me."

However, he said he now realises it was an accident, which killed Mr Walton. He said: "Travis was in the wrong place at the wrong time and should never have been stood so close to such an incredible machine. He himself explained that he was just about to turn back to the truck seconds before being struck. It now seems that as the craft was preparing to take off into the night sky it inadvertently knocked Travis for six, killing him in the process.

"Yes, you read that right. Travis told me that he believed that he was actually dead. "So now we get to the real question which so many people ask...why did they take him on board? Well, according to the man himself, they took him in order to save his life - and this they clearly succeeded in doing."

Mr Robinson said the story now had a "more legitimate tone". He added it was "an accident and an act of humanitarianism." He said: "Travis Walton has made me believe again, or should I say know again, that we truly are in the midst of something remarkable and it is only a matter of time before the bigger picture is revealed."

Now, 41 years on, Mr Walton and his former co-workers still maintain their account of what is recognised as the world's most remarkable UFO sighting and alien abduction claim on record. The team, who were on a tree-thinning project, have all passed lie detector tests over the remarkable incident in November 1975, adding credibility to their account. The seven of them reported how they were driving in the forest in a truck when they first saw mysterious lights which then appeared to be a flying saucer up in the canopy.

A mesmerised Mr Walton was the only one among them to venture out of the vehicle and approach the craft, despite his colleagues pleading with him not to go near.Mr

Walton said: "My eyes were just riveted on this thing. Then it threw me back through the air 20 feet." His colleagues reported seeing him fly backwards with his back arched from a beam of light bearing down from the craft. The terrified men fled in the vehicle, but returned later when there was no trace of the UFO or Mr Walton.

Mr Walton insists he woke up inside an alien craft, lying on a table and surrounded by three aliens with other humanoid looking beings in the background. He said: "I got this rush of adrenaline and jumped from the table and just lashed out. Then I blacked out and woke up on the side of the road and ran to the nearest call box and collapsed." What he didn't know at the time was he had been gone for five days.

The Gaffney Incident: The Night Police Talked to an Alien

This case, investigated by John Keel, on the Beyond Creepy YouTube channel, occurred on November 17th 1966. Two police officers, C Hutchins & A Huskey, were driving in an outlying section of Gaffney, South Carolina known as the West Buford Street Extension when as they neared a right angle bend in the road, they suddenly saw a metallic object directly in front of them. This object was descending when they first saw it, Hutchins said, and was about twenty feet above the ground. He described it as being spherical, like a ball, with a wide, flat rim around it. There were no lights or portholes visible on it. It was completely dark, reflecting a dull gold color in the headlights of the police car. The car did not stall.

As the object settled to within a few feet of the ground, both men got out of their car in a state of benumbed amazement. Later Hutchins estimated that the object must have been about twenty feet in diameter. A small door suddenly opened noiselessly on the underside of the sphere, he said, and a short ladder, four to six feet long, dropped down. White light poured out of the opening, but neither man could see anything in the interior. A figure appeared in the doorway, descended the ladder, and walked slowly and deliberately toward the two police officers. When the figure reached a point about fifteen to twenty feet from the two men, it stopped. "He didn't move stiffly," officer Hutchins said. "He moved just like anybody else, but kind of slow...like he was taking his time. He wasn't scared of us or anything like that."

In appearance, the humanoid was about the size of a twelve-year-old boy, maybe four feet. He wore no helmet or headgear and was dressed in a gold suit with no buttons or zippers. His costume was shiny, like metal, in the reflection of the headlights, it was not self-luminous. The humanoid asked numerous questions and ignored the witnesses when they asked any questions. Hutchins could not remember seeing the feet of the creature. It was standing on high grass and the feet must have been hidden.

Both men could not really remember the full context of the "conversation". Hutchins claimed the alien spoke perfect English, "Didn't have any accent or anything. He acted like he knew exactly what he was saying and doing...didn't make any quick moves or false moves. He just stood there and talked to the witnesses." He wanted to know why both men were dressed alike. His speech was very precise. He pronounced each word very carefully. When asked where he was from he just laughed. The meeting was brief, perhaps only 2 or 3 minutes. Then, Hutchins say, the creature announced, "I...will...return...in...two...days" he turned, walked slowly back to the ladder and climbed into the object. The door closed quietly and the craft began to whirr, a soft whirring sound, like an engine with a muffler on it. The object rose slowly and vanished into the sky. A local councilman found numerous footprints at the site where the little man had stood.

Eager to find out if the little man would make good on his promise to return, officers Charles Hutchins and A G Huskey revisited the landing site nightly for two weeks, after the incident. Aside from one anomalous orange ball that sailed overhead on one of the nights, they observed nothing unusual. "We don't know how long his days are" Hutchins jokingly told Keel. "The 'little man' had not had a 'green complexion' as was reported in the newspapers", he said. When he and Officer J. E. Huskey had first told their story they had been subjected to so many jeers that they impishly added the 'green complexion'. "Actually", he admitted, "the creature's face seemed rather ordinary and human-like, and neither man was able to tell whether his complexion was light or dark."

Looking this case up on the web, it was found that there were a number of other cases in November of 1966. There was another the same day in Collegeville Pennsylvania, also involving beings in gold suits. At 1.30 a.m. Margaret Marchute saw on the ground a luminous object that seemed to be made of polished metal. After about half an hour, a red flame shot upward from the object; then 2 very bright lights approached it from the distance; when these were near it, something like a luminous balloon sprang up from it & hovered in the air. At this point she could see 3 or 4 figures moving about the large object on the ground, which was pulsating from dim to bright. They were dressed in a "gold shiny material." She watched for about 2 hours before going to bed. Source: Systems Management Associates Inc., & Nicap

Also on that site was mentioned another very interesting contact case:

Dean Fagerstrom's Story of his Incredible Encounters

As an adult Dean's first encounter experiences began to occur in November of 1966 while he was in the army stationed in Bad Kreuznach, Germany. He lived in the down town district, about one mile from the base.

One night at around 2 am., in the morning Dean was sitting in his apartment while he worked on a number sequence to play for the local lottery. He had the feeling that he was not alone. At first he did not feel alarmed but his continued premonition developed into a awareness there was another person that may be present, The intense awareness made him intensely curious. Dean began to feel restless so he stood up and walked around the living room to investigate.

When he found no one present in the apartment he returned to his seat where he was working with the lottery numbers on a white board. As he returned his concentration to the whiteboard and the sequence of numbers he was writing a incredible scene developed. Dean described "instead of lottery numbers appearing on the white board suddenly in their place a silhouette like a human like face began to appear before my eyes". He indicated that the face filled up nearly the entire working area on the white board. In a short time the image began to get clearer. Amazingly what Dean described further on in his experience was not the appearance of just one face, but the representation of actually two faces.

A ghostly bluish shimmer appeared around the edges of the actual image, as one image appeared as a man with tawny hair, near shoulder length and a woman with slightly shorter, darker hair. Dean heard a voice very close to his ear identify both of the names of the faces that appeared on the whiteboard. The male speaking to Dean first gave his name as "Donestra" and then he announced his mate's or wife's name as "Kilestra".

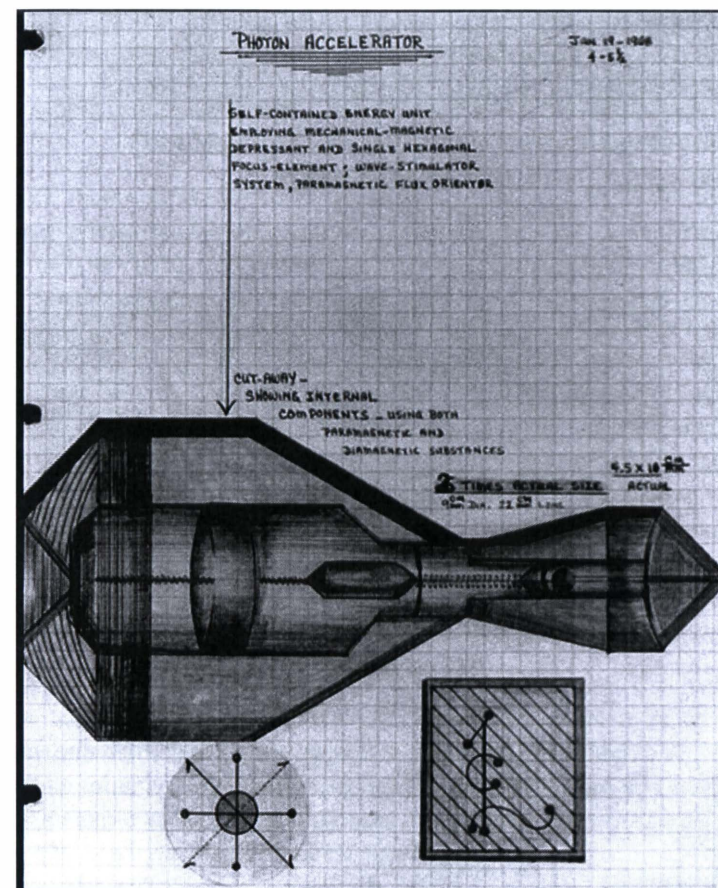

Donestra told Dean, that Dean has studied many things and they have been receiving his thought projections because the mind is a powerful transmitter.

Donestra also told Dean that the images he is now seeing are not real, but holographic projections. Dean was then told that this being and his mate were among thousands of other individuals from various planets throughout the near regions of our solar system and beyond. Donestra told Dean that they have been studying the Earth for many years and that our planetary and human condition interested them greatly.

After several minutes of conversation the communication came to a close and Dean was asked not to mention to any one for a while what he had seen and heard. Dean was told to watch the skies in the next few days, he did and claims he saw a craft of "amazing design and aerial ability". This was to prove to Dean that the contact he had was real and not an hallucination. Between 1966 and 1967 Dean was to continue to have contact with Donestra.

In 1967 Dean was discharged from the service and he moved to Brewster, New York. Things were quiet, and the year went by uneventful. But on January 19th, 1968 at 4:30am., in the morning Dean had another extraterrestrial contact, this time it would change the rest of his life. Dean woke up at that hour and saw a bluish shimmer in the upper corner of the room.

He also heard an incredible high frequency buzzing sound. Gradually, an object materialized about three inches in diameter, round, resembling an old fashioned microphone. This object came nearer and nearer until it halted before Dean's face at a distance of no more than a foot. This object stood there, suspended in mid air and continued to oscillate. As Dean watched, something projected itself from the center of the disk and extended out four or five inches, it resembled an "ice pick". It seemed to Dean that it was some type of probe and came to within three inches of his forehead. The probe then emitted a very intense vibration that shook his head and neck. Dean lay in bed helpless, but not paralyzed. The object then became quiet, then it disappeared.

Photon accelerator? But nothing can exceed the speed of light ... can it?

were completed in a period approximating this time period. Dean did not know why he was doing this, but thought this Donestra person might have something to do with it. Dean had no idea of what the devices were that he was drawing.

The next day, Friday morning, Dean got into his car went to a store and began buying graph paper, triangles, compasses and various drafting instruments. The buying spree did not seem to be under his control, nor did he understand why he was buying these things. Dean collected his purchases and went home and for the next seventy two hours began making drawings of various types of alien machinery. Other independent witnesses have indicated that the drawings

The drawings were done in an unusual manner. Dean had no notion of what he was doing, but felt strongly motivated to complete the drawings. He would place a piece of graph paper in front of him and as bluish dots would appear. As the dots appeared the dots instructed him where to draw the lines. Also he seemed to have a pre-knowledge of what color or shade to place in a particular part of the diagrams. After many hours behind closed doors Dean completed 32 diagrams and several pages of some unknown symbols.

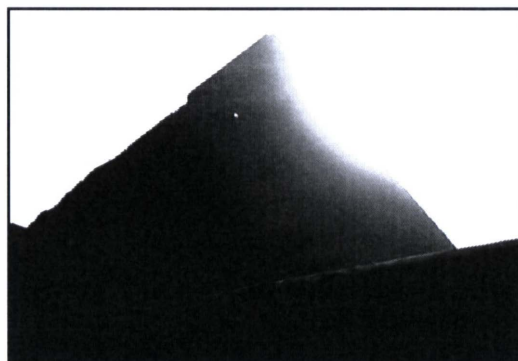

Dean held on to these diagrams since 1968, then turned them over to Philip J. Imbrogno in 1982. Donestra instructed Dean to then turn the drawings (pictures) over to an appropriate person or contact when he would be strongly urged or compelled to do so at a future time and place. Dean would know exactly what to do and whom to give the drawings to when the proper time comes.

Light orbs at the Great Pyramid

There are two videos on YouTube from Hugh Newman, taken in 2012 and 2017 of light orbs moving over the face of the Great Pyramid. He writes:

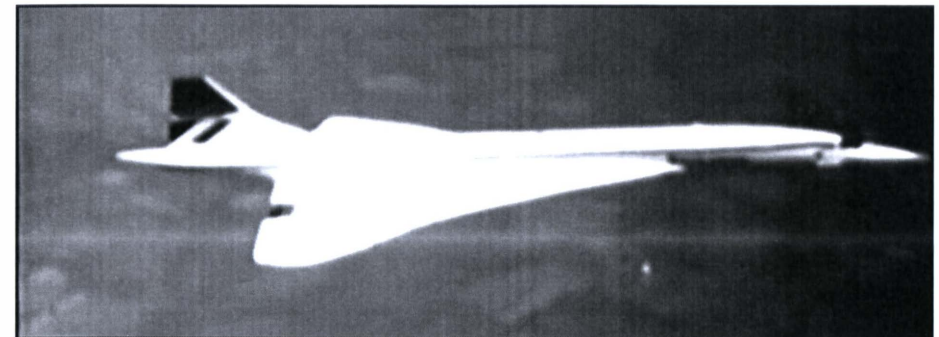

2012 (uploaded 2015): I was hesitant to upload this at the time, but I'd be interested in people's reaction to what they think the strange lights are, or is it just something blowing around in the wind? But then there are the photographs! At 11.11am, the exact time of Winter Solstice 2012, we explored the Giza Plateau with the Great Convergence Festival and managed to capture this on film. Extra photographs contributed by Michael Mathis.

2017: I caught a strange light moving up the face of one of the pyramids on the Giza Plateau with my Osmo+ camera on October 17th 2017 at around 4.15pm. What do you make of it? See other orb footage from December 2012 here: <https://youtu.be/sYN6HrbsKBY>.

The orb seems to be similar in appearance to one which appeared near the prototype Concorde in 1976, shown on a recent SecureTeam video on YouTube. It also seems to be moving in a similar way, as if investigating, rather than being simply a natural phenomenon earthlight.

President of European Commission mentions concern of people from other planets after Brexit referendum by Tyler from SecureTeam just said that aliens and people from far away and from other planets - the leaders of other planets - have been worried about the ongoing crisis, including that of Britain exiting from the European Union, as well as other things now.

Well, as bizarre as this sounds, it looks like the President of the European Commission

Again, as bizarre and outlandish as this might seem, it is actually and precisely what he said. I'll go ahead and play you this video here where he says these things during a speech made in Brussels, in the wake of Britain voting to leave the European Union. And you'll see below there are accurate subtitles here that were actually provided by the "Mars Moon Space TV" YouTube channel, which we have worked with in the past, who did a beautiful job of narrating.

"You should know that those who observe us from afar are concerned. I have met and listened to several leaders of other planets. They are very worried because they ask questions about the path the European Union will pursue. We should therefore reassure the Europeans and those who observe us from far away."

As you just saw, this was a large meeting in Brussels, where we had the leaders of all these different countries commenting on Brexit, or Britain's exit from the European Union. And Jean-Claude Juncker got up and began speaking about leaders from other planets.

Now, some have said that "This is a bad translation" or "He didn't know what he was saying". However, I have checked up on this and he did indeed say these things. And after speaking with multiple French people who listened to what he said - yes, the translation was 100% correct. He clearly mentions about people from far away that are looking at us, as well as mentioning "people from other planets". So it's not a mistake.

That leaves us with a) he slipped up, and mentioned something that he shouldn't have mentioned or b) maybe he was drunk. Apparently Mr. Jean-Claude is known for his drunkenness, so it is possible that maybe he had a couple of martinis before this speech and began talking about other people from another planet watching us. However, I would think that even if you were drunk, that it would be pretty difficult, and it is a pretty big distinction between the word "planet" and let's say the word "country". If he was wanting to say "people from another country", I don't know how he would have made that leap from the word "country" to the word "planet", or "planets". So it's very strange and I'll let you guys watch it over and you'll see after you do your research that he did say "people from other planets", and that people are watching us from far away.

And Jean-Claude here is not the first one to make some very bold claims about aliens or possibly slip up. In this video today we're going to show you some of the other quotes from various world leaders about aliens and about UFO activity that may just shock you.

So we'll start with a quote from Senator Barry Goldwater, who is chairman of the senate intelligence committee. Mr. Goldwater stated "This thing has gotten so highly-classified it is just impossible to get anything on it. I have no idea who controls the need-to-know because, frankly, I was told in such an emphatic way that it was none of my business, that I've never tried to make it my business since. I have been interested in this subject for a long time and I do know that whatever the Air Force has on this subject it's going to remain highly classified.

Gordon Cooper, the former NASA astronaut, who was also an aeronautical engineer and test pilot, and one of the seven original astronauts in Project Mercury - the first manned space program of the United States - stated "In my opinion, I think they were worried that it would panic the public, so they started telling lies about it, and then I think they had to tell another lie to cover their first lie. Now they don't know how to get out of it. Now it's going to be so embarrassing to admit that all of these administrations had told so many untruths. There are a number of extra terrestrial vehicles out there cruising around."

In a very enigmatic speech by President Ronald Reagan at the UN general assembly on September 21st 1987 in Geneva, Switzerland, he said "In our obsession with antagonisms of the moment, we often forget how much unites all members of humanity. Perhaps we need some outside, universal threat to make us recognise this common bond. I occasionally think how quickly our differences worldwide would vanish if we were facing an alien threat from outside this world. And yet I ask, is not an alien force already among us? " Very enigmatic and mysterious words from our former president Ronald Reagan.

Here is another quote from former NASA astronaut in Princeton, physics professor Dr. Brian O'Leary. He says "There is abundant evidence that we are being contacted, that civilisations have been visiting us for a very long time. That their appearance is bizarre from any type of traditional materialistic western point of view. That these visitors use the technologies of consciousness, they use toroids, they use co-rotating magnetic disks for their propulsion systems. That seems to be a common denominator of the UFO phenomenon".

Dr. Edgar Mitchell, astronaut and lunar module pilot from the Apollo 14 moon landing, said "Yes, there have been crashed craft and bodies recovered. We are not alone in the universe. They have been coming here for a long time." Well, it doesn't get any more plainspoken than that folks.

Mr Roscoe H Hillenkoetter, the former director of the CIA, in 1960 said "Behind the scenes high-ranking Air Force officers are soberly concerned about UFOs. But through official secrecy and ridicule many citizens are led to believe the unknown flying objects are nonsense." Now that is a very telling quote that we have talked a lot about on this channel - how they have tried to make a mockery of the UFO phenomena. And we have a former director of the CIA corroborating that.

During a screening of the Steven Spielberg movie ET - the Extra-Terrestrial, Ronald Reagan is quoted as saying to Mr. Spielberg "You know, there aren't six people in this room who know how true this really is" - referring to the extra-terrestrial phenomena.

A very revealing quote by Mr. Ben Rich, who was the former senior engineer for Lockheed Martin, and the former director of Lockheed Advanced Aerospace Technology Division Skunk Works, stated this: "We already have the means to travel among the stars. But these technologies are locked up in black projects, and it would take an act of God to ever get them out to benefit humanity. Anything you can imagine, we already know how to do.

Now, talking about close encounters, is a very mysterious and telling quote from the cosmonaut, Viktor Afanasyev, who was commenting on a UFO sighting that occurred while en route to the Soviet space station in April of 1979. "It followed us during half of our orbit. We observed it on the light side. And when we entered the shadow side, it disappeared completely. It was an engineered structure made from some type of metal, approximately 40 metres long with inner holes. And inside there were openings. Some places had projections, like small wings. The object stayed very close to us. We photographed it and our photos showed it to be 23 to 28 metres away".

A former British police officer Tony Dodd stated "I have contact with certain diplomats, who not only confirm meetings have been taking place between government officials and an alien race, but have been receiving assistance from this race to advance technology, to enable them to meet hostile aliens on a level playing field. My contacts have been present at these meetings and have met these aliens, who are benevolent towards us, but will not act with aggression towards any life form unless in self defence.

Lastly, we have a quote from Canada's former Minister of National Defence. From an interview with the Canadian press 2010. Paul Hellyer went on to say, and I quote, "The reality is that they, the aliens, have been visiting earth for decades and probably millennia, and have contributed considerably to our knowledge.

Now, these are just a handful of quotes given by men who are in very high positions within the government and military of various countries. Past presidents, past CIA directors, astronauts who have walked on the moon, and now we have this new video showing the president of the European Commission possibly slipping up. But even if he didn't and it was all a mistake, the truth still stands and the fact is: we have been visited and we have had many world leaders who haven't made mistakes, and who knew exactly what they were talking about.

Leaked Hillary Clinton Emails Proof Of Alien Coverup?

Another video from SecureTeam, on 8th October 2016, revealed this email from astronaut Edgar Mitchell to John Podesta, who was chairman of Hillary Clinton's presidential campaign.

email for John Podesta c/o Eryn re Space Treaty (attached) 2015-08-18 10.30

Dear John,

Because the war in space race is heating up, I felt you should be aware of several factors as you and I schedule our Skype talk. Remember, our non-violent ETI from contiguous universe are helping us bring zero point energy to Earth.

They will not tolerate any forms of military violence on Earth or in space.

The following information in italics was shared with me by my colleague Carol Rosin who worked closely for several years for Werner von Braun before his death.

Carol and I have worked on the Treaty on the Prevention of the placement of Weapons in Outer Space, attached for convenience.

The environmental and philosophical implications of this are discussed, and the apparent necessity of worship but irrelevance of doctrine. Two ley centres are given as examples, and investigated in depth - the Shah Jehan Mosque in Woking and the Guru Nanak Sikh Temple, Scunthorpe. There is an appendix by Eileen Grimshaw on the significance of the Pagan religion to this study. Illustrated with photographs, maps and line drawings. £2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.

Beginnings is about a series of potentially useful discoveries, mainly made by Jimmy Goddard over a period of about twenty years, but having some overlap with discoveries made by others. For various reasons, the investigations are all in their early stages, and some have not been continued. They include earth energy detection, natural antigravity, subconscious siting, ley width, and the solar transition effect. There is also a chapter on cognitive dissonance - a psychological factor which seems to have been at the root of all bigotry - scientific, religious and other - down the ages. The booklet is concluded with an account of the discovery of leys by Alfred Watkins. £2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.

EARTH PEOPLE, SPACE PEOPLE

In 1961, Tony Wedd produced a manuscript Earth Men, Space Men, detailing many claims of extraterrestrial contact. It was never published, and I had thought it was lost, though it has recently been located - Tony had given it to Timothy Good. To try to make up for the loss in a much more modest size, this booklet was prepared. As well as giving details of some of the more prominent contact claims, there are articles on the history of the STAR Fellowship and some of its personalities, evidence for life in the Solar System and investigation into extraterrestrial language.

THE LEGACY OF TONY WEDD

This CD-ROM is an electronic form of the travelling exhibition Tony planned, using his voice, writing, photographs and drawings to illustrate his research and findings in the fields of flying saucers, landscape energies and lost technology.

This disc will no longer work on current Microsoft operating systems. Anyone with Windows XP or earlier can have a copy free—please enclose return postage in stamps.

AMSKAYA is the newsletter of the STAR Fellowship, a continuation of the organisation formed in 1960 by Tony Wedd of Chiddlingstone, who held that contact was the way ahead for flying saucer investigation. £4 for four quarterly issues from J.
